

Hello from the Class of 2018!

We did it! 2016 Annual Appeal

Thank you to everyone who contributed to this year's Annual Appeal which ended on August 31. With your help, the Annual Appeal finished strong this year! Over 600 donors gave 700 gifts and we raised $155,000 plus another $10,000 in matching gifts from companies that you work for! I cannot thank you enough for the continued support of our school.

Missed out on last year's giving? Start the year off with a gift to Saint Saviour! Click here to make a gift today!

Dressy Donation

Over the summer, I had lunch with Alumna Carolyn Quadarella '63. While she was cleaning out her parents house, she found her prom dress which she generously donated (along with her jacket) to our archives! It will be on display along with other memorabilia at the reunion.

100th Anniversary Celebration - June 11, 2017

Save the date for the 100th Anniversary Celebration at Gargiulo's Restaurant in Coney Island! The luncheon will take place on Sunday, June 11, 2017 at 2:30 pm. You will be receiving a letter from me in the coming weeks with additional details.

All ticket information will be available online soon!

Thanks to alumna Chris Cardi '01 who created this awesome logo!

This photo is from the 1967 yearbook with a caption of "1917".

The class of 1921 was the first graduating class at Saint Saviour. While they did not have a yearbook, we like to think they were proud of their achievement which came during the women's suffrage movement and towards the end of WWI.

Saint Saviour Alumna Scholarship awardee: Ciara Brody '19

Saint Saviour has been a dear friend to me over the last school year. I couldn't imagine going anywhere else. My first day I walked to school with a couple friends and I was I scared! Immediately, we were greeted by some upper classmen which made the day easier. We walked up the first flight of stairs and were told what homerooms we were in, I was in 9C with Ms. O'Connell. I relaxed a bit because I had already known one or two of the girls in my homeroom.

So there we were, a bunch of scared frosh waiting for someone to start up a conversation. I sat with the two girls I had previously known and slowly, but surely, we all started having one big conversation. By the end of the day, we were already laughing together and talking about how we were upset summer was over, but excited to be starting high school.

I'm glad freshman year is over, not because the freshman were picked on (or anything like in the movies) but because now I can come to school this year knowing what to expect and be able to help the new freshman. I am also really glad I came to Saint Saviour because my sisters and aunt went there. Our school is really small so whenever you say a name, teachers and students know exactly who they are, what activities they were involved in and what they look like. This made it feel more like a family to me.

There was never a dull day in our school; we have so many activities going on all the time. Did I mention that Bernie Sanders' wife is a fellow Saviourite and came to talk to us?! Song Contest was a blast and it was a true bonding experience because it brought everyone together and got us all to work together.

I have to say my favorite thing was when the freshmen sang to the Seniors at the Graduation Mass. My sister Erin was a senior and it made the Mass much more personal. I even let down a tear or two during the song! Saint Saviour is definitely the place to be and to make new friends who you can cry and laugh with together.

Panda Pride!

Planning for the future

We have a new admissions brochure to help us recruit future Saviourites - 2021, 2022 and 2023! Help us spread the word about all the awesome classes, activities and sports that Saint Saviour has to offer young women. Click to view our new admissions brochure

You are invited to attend our Open Houses on Thursday, Oct. 6 from 6:30pm - 8pm and Sunday, Oct. 23 from 12:30 - 3pm. Tour the school, meet faculty and see all the great things happening at our school. The building may be the same but what's happening inside is exciting!!

Look for our ads in The Brooklyn Courier, The Rockaway Point News, The Wave, The Home Reporter and The Tablet!
